ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The present invention provides a polarizer manufacturing method. Dichroic molecule material is printed over the polarizer substrate by microcontact printing. A shear force generated from the microcontact printing process can arrange the Dichroic molecule in a particular direction.